Putting Together a Dream

Dallas Baptist College . . . the dream . . . began in the little town of Decatur, Texas. Under the name of Northwest Texas Baptist College, DBC opened its first semester in 1893. Because of financial difficulty, the college was renamed Decatur Baptist College in 1897. Today in Decatur, only a ghost of the mighty "Home of the Indians" can be seen on the side of a factory. The Administration Building, which once watched the busy activities of college life, now serves as the Wise County Museum. It was decided in 1963 to relocate the college to a more central location. The world's oldest junior college was moved, lock, stock, and barrel, to Dallas, Texas, and became our present day Dallas Baptist College.

The Dream as It Is Today

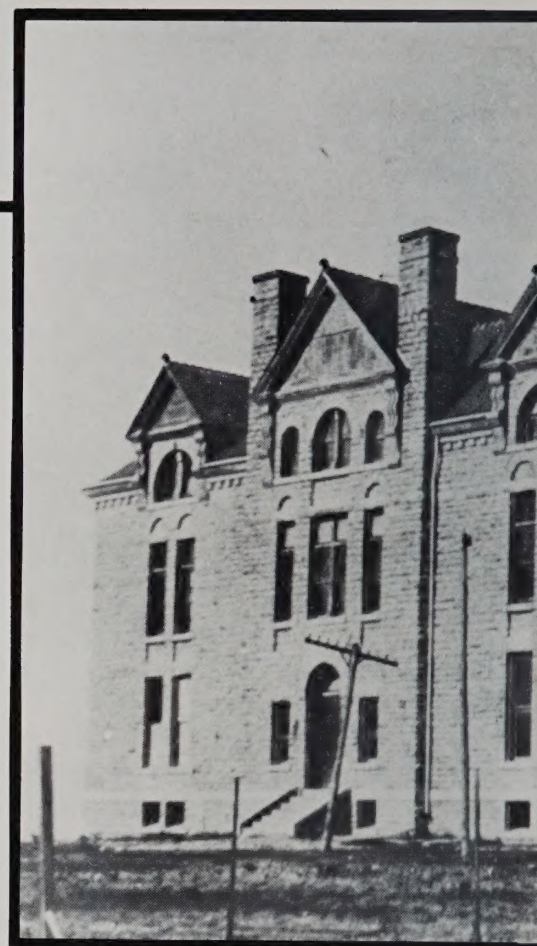

Built on a hill, like Old Decatur Baptist College, Dallas Baptist College is now a four year college, offering a quality education in a Christian context.

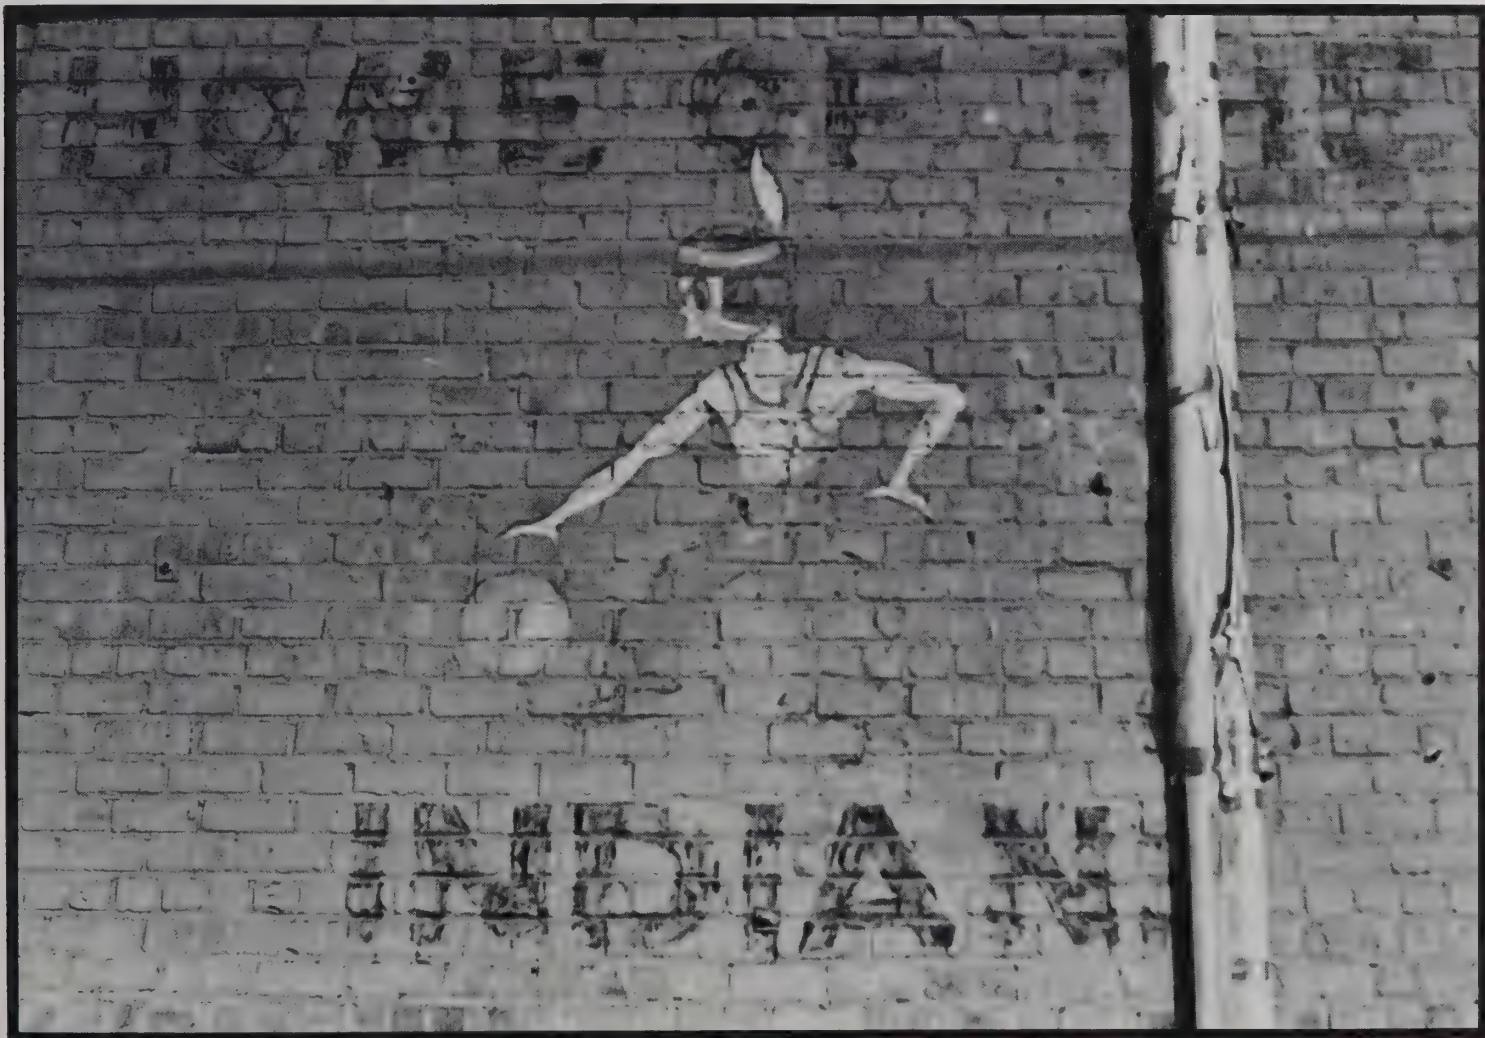

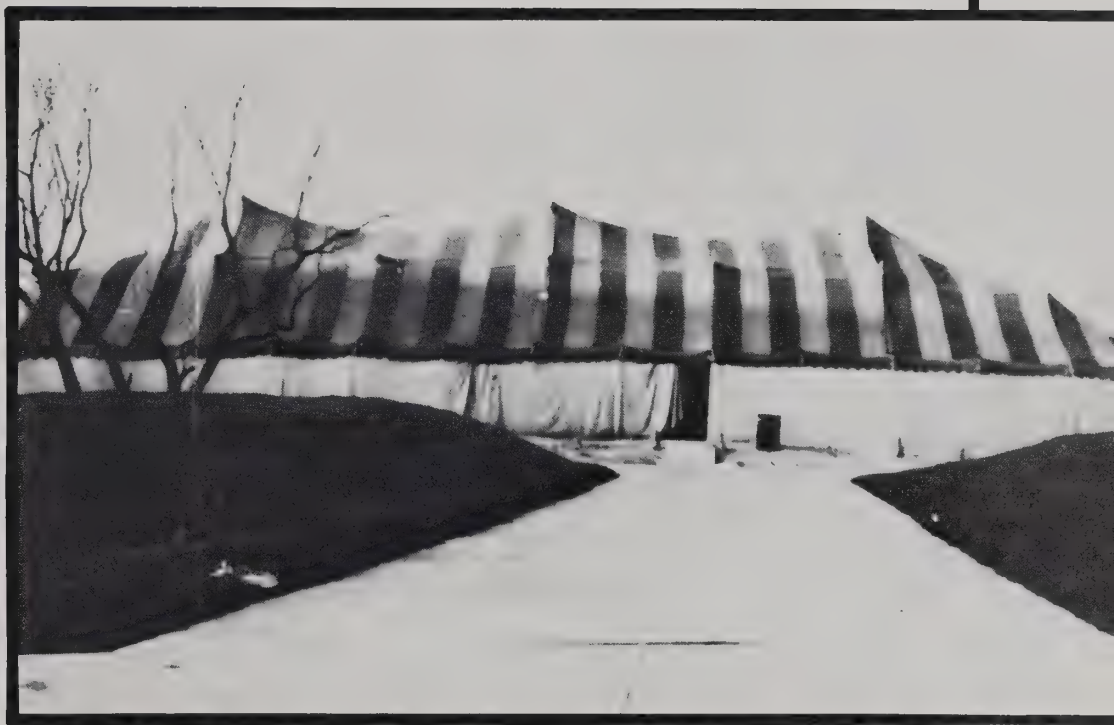

The Dream as It Was Yesterday

Proud Decatur Baptist buildings that once held the beginning of a great dream, have changed. Some have only been renamed and remodeled, while others have ceased to exist.

COLLEGE LIFE

Activities at Dallas Baptist College are available to all. Some students wish to be by themselves on the hill, or to watch events take place. Other students prefer to take active places in campus events and organizations.

EARLY LIFE

Dallas Baptist College has always enjoyed her campus athletics and organizations. The origins of our modern day Indians can be traced to the early years of the twentieth century. Pictured are some of the predecessors of the current Indian activities.

DR. W. E. (BILL) THORN

Before becoming a part of the Dallas Baptist College dream, Dr. Thorn played on the Hardin Simmons Varsity football team for two seasons, then joined the Navy for World War II. Meeting Jessie changed his life around, and not too many years later, he and Jessie had four lovely girls. In 1975, Dr. Thorn became a part of D.B.C. Because of his hard efforts and love for the school, Dr. Thorn, with God's guidance has given Dallas Baptist College a new outlook and hope for the future. Not only for what he has done for Dallas Baptist College, but for the great person he is in Christ. The 1978 SUMMIT is DEDICATED TO DR. W. E. THORN.

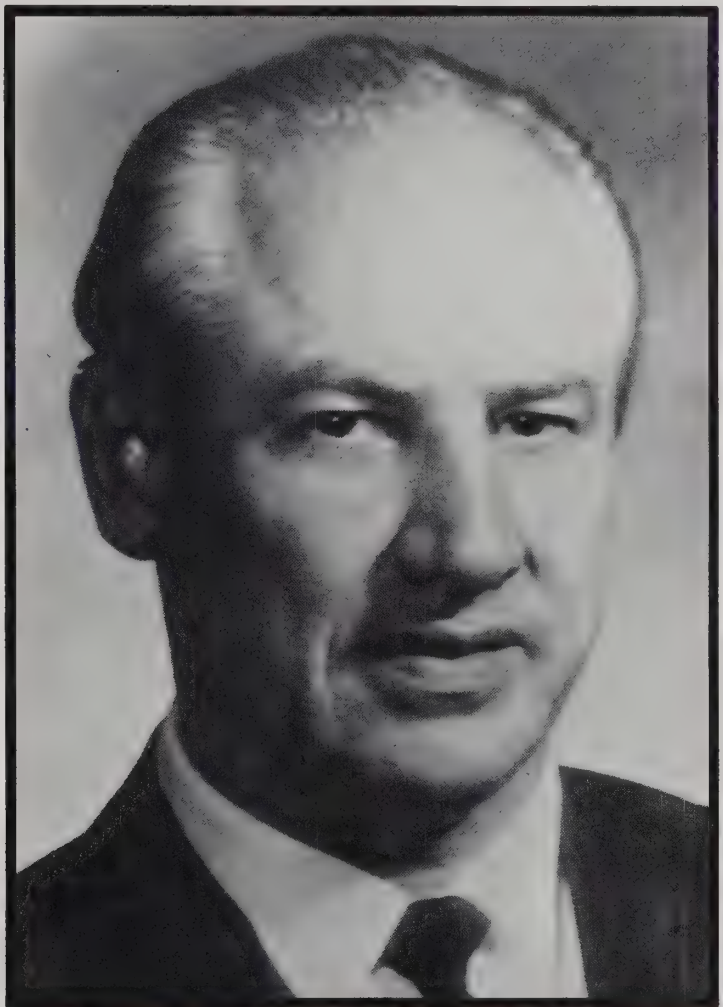

Decatur Presidents

Great men have helped build the dream that Dallas Baptist College has become. Without these presidents, the college would not have the colorful past, nor the bright future of tomorrow.

Mountain Creek Fair

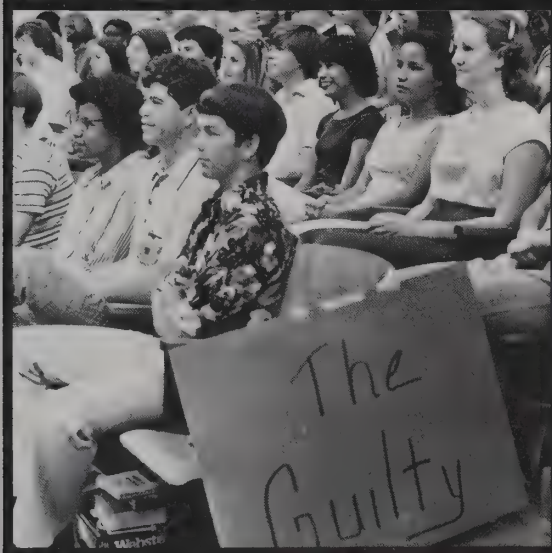

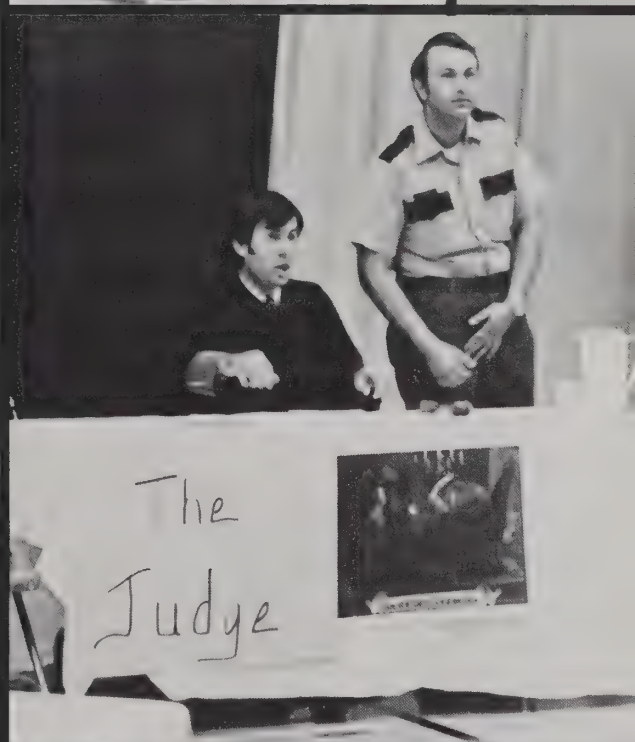

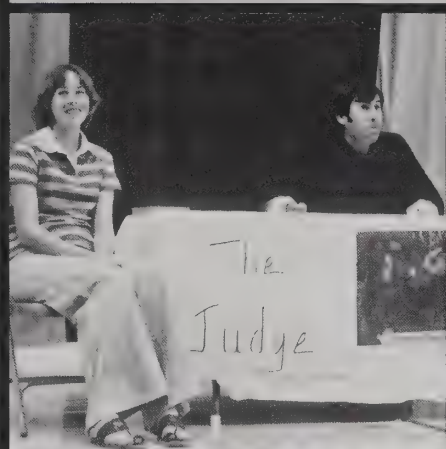

The purpose of Mountain Creek Fair is to involve all the campus organizations in an evening of fun-filled activity and to introduce the churches of the area to the students of Dallas Baptist College.

Kangaroo Court

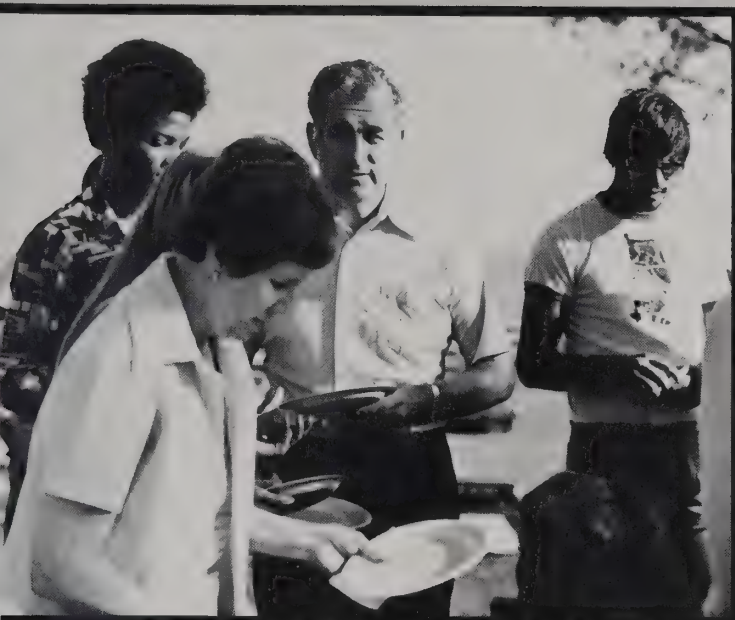

Kangaroo Court signifies the initiation of all incoming freshman. It is not meant to intimidate anyone, but to draw these new freshman into closer fellowship with the functioning student body. Freshman are tried for various imagined crimes and are "always convicted."

Tribal Wars

Tribal Wars, sponsored by the SGA, was held for the first time on the DBC campus this year. The purpose of this activity was to involve all members of the DBC family in a fun-filled day of activities. The day included various games, live entertainment, a chicken dinner and was capped off with a drawing for assorted prizes. It is hoped that this activity will become a tradition in future years on the DBC campus.

Cabaret

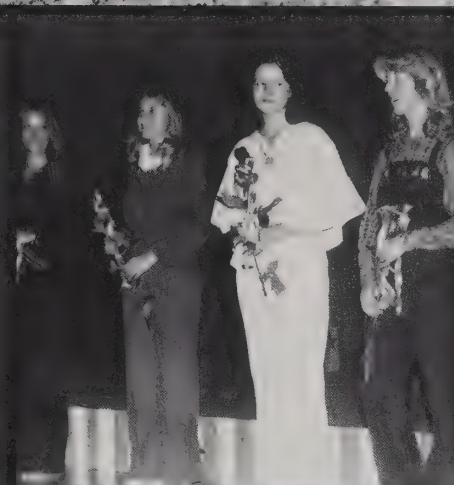

The Homecoming Cabaret was the beginning of a regular theatre production program for Dallas Baptist College. The ad said "Come see where our theatre will be. Watch it grow. Come and bring a pillow and sit on the floor."

The Valentine Cabaret was the second production of the 1977-78 theatre season. The theatre-in-the-round space developed into and set in chairs. These two productions were the forerunners for The Room at the Top Theatre.

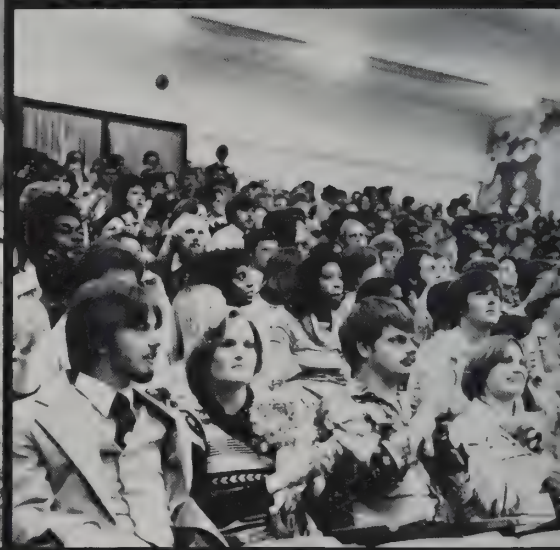

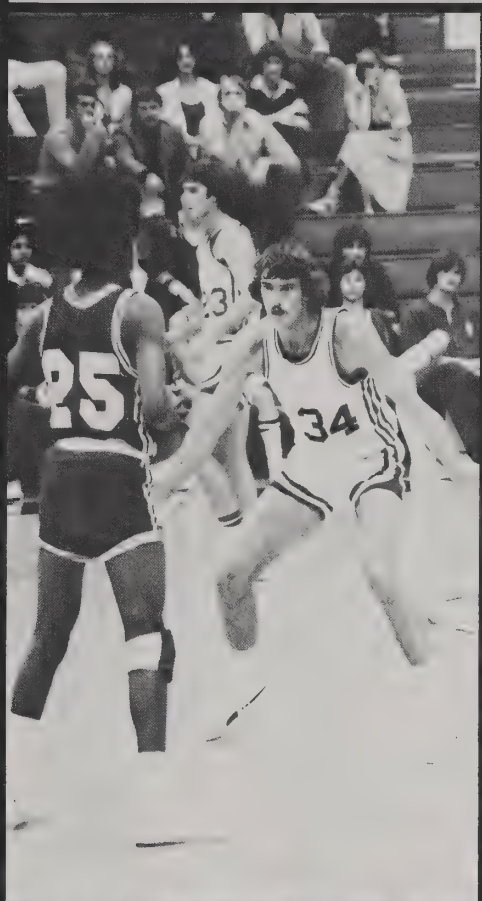

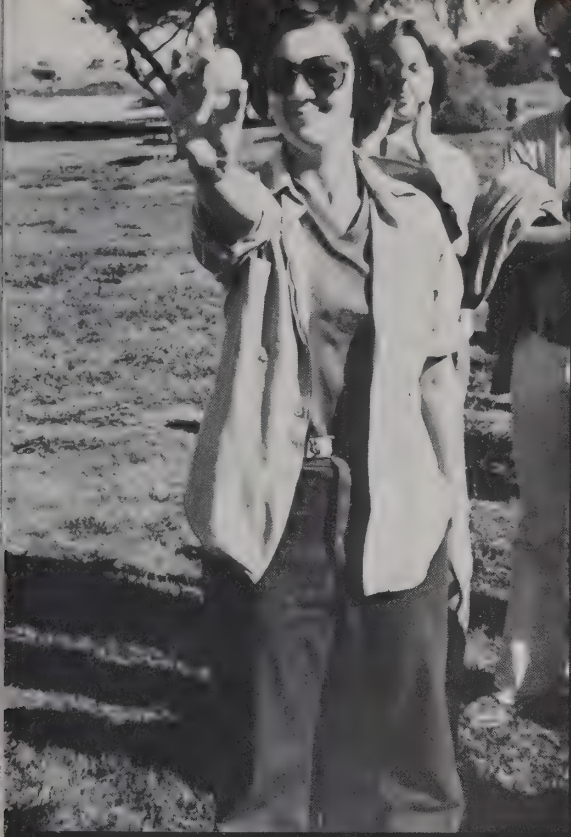

Homecoming

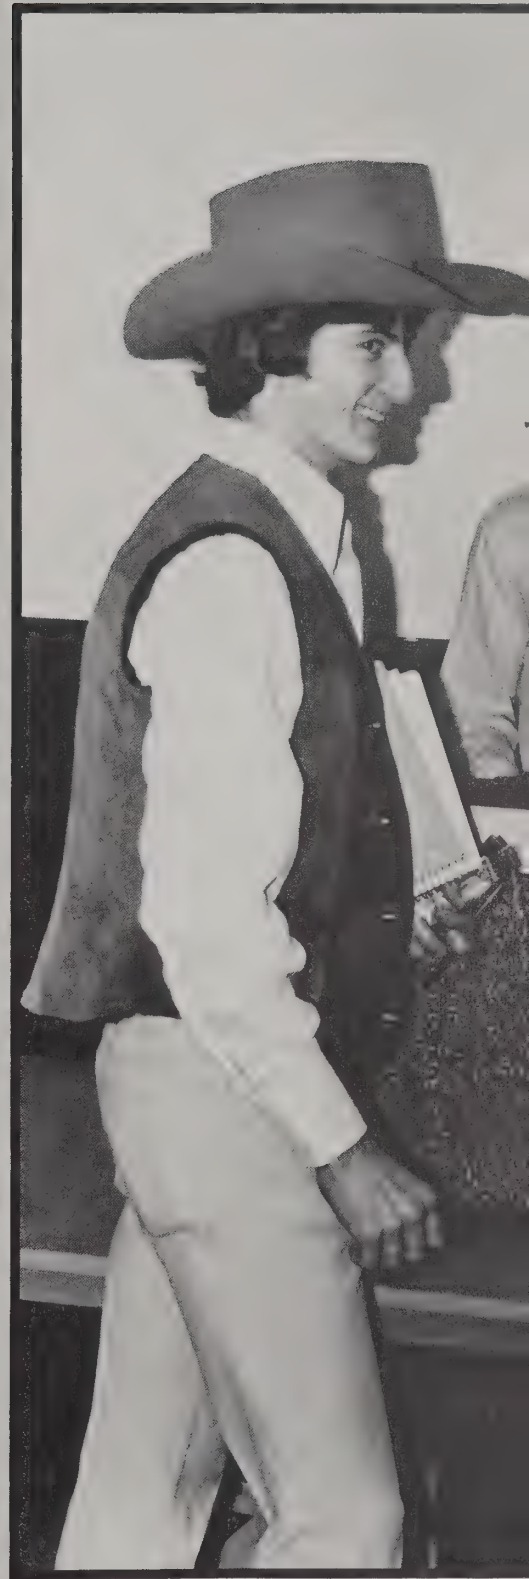

Homecoming brings former students and faculty members back for a weekend of campus activities. The activities sponsored by current students, and faculty members focus on forming a special bond between the two groups.

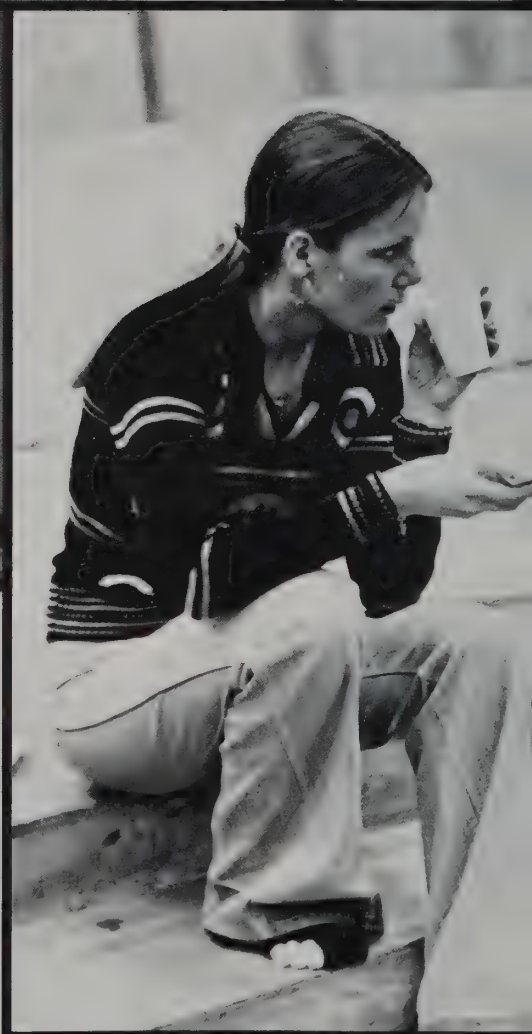

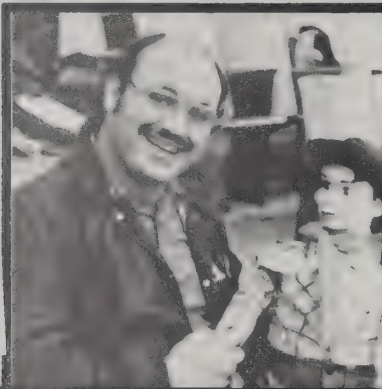

Western attire, a western dinner and, hayride all went to create an atmosphere of western hospitality which made the theme of Jamboree Day at Dallas Baptist College create an atmosphere of anticipation for the finale of the Jamboree session that evening.

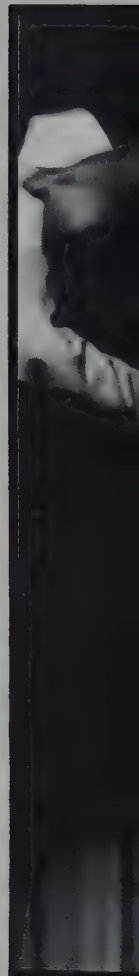

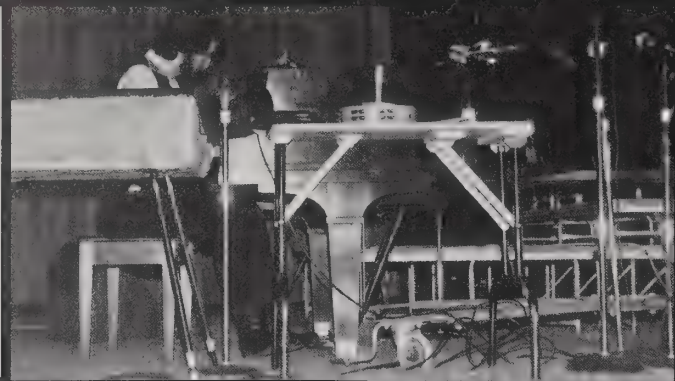

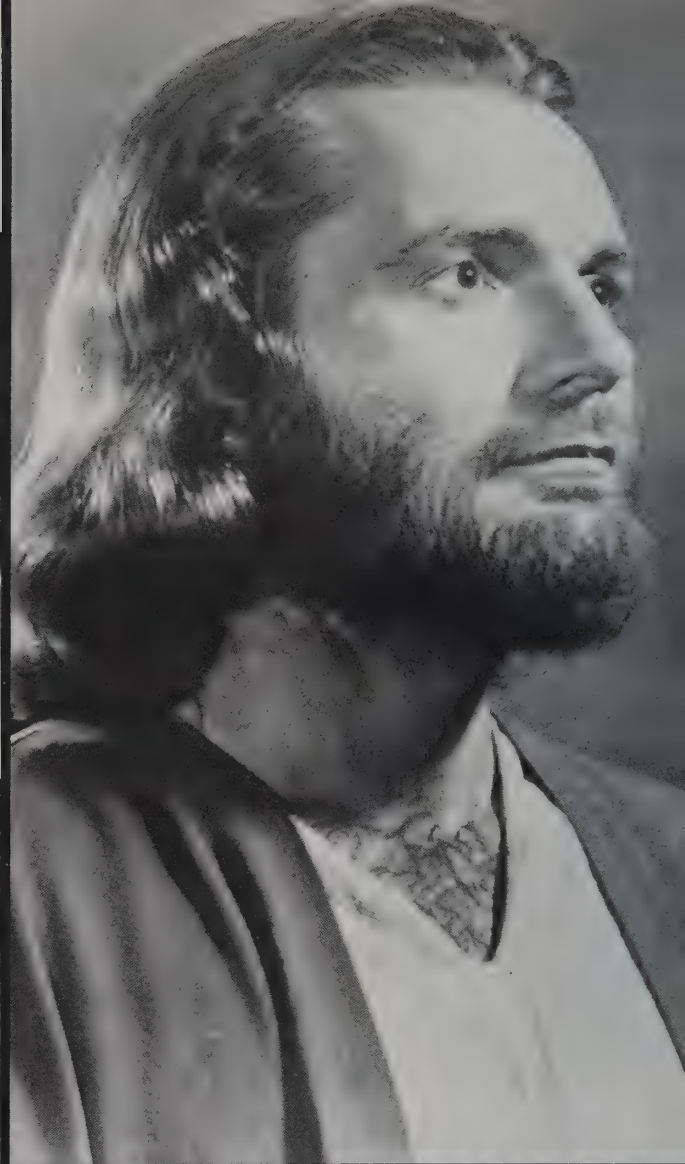

Miss DBC

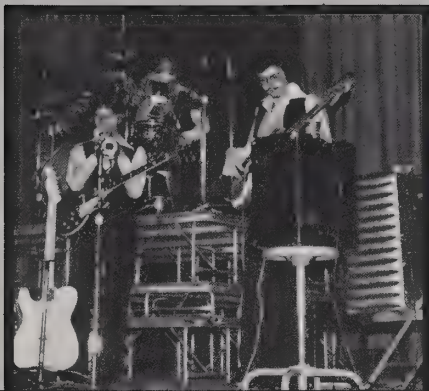

The Miss DBC contestants are nominated by their fellow students. When she is selected from several areas of competition, our wish is that she best represent Dallas Baptist College in the highest of Christian and moral character where ever her endeavors may take her.

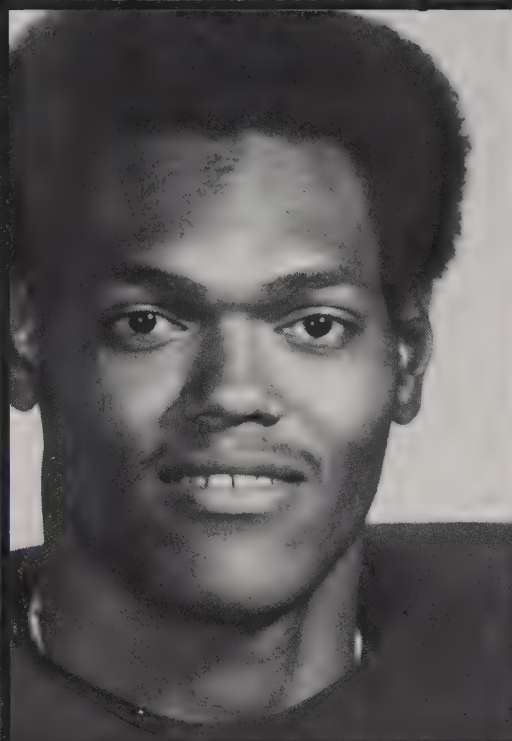

Baptist Student Ministry Christian Focus Week

CFW is a time for the campus of Dallas Baptist College to concentrate on the spiritual values which give the school its distinction as an institution whose values come from a personal faith in Jesus Christ. The theme was "Jesus Alive." Our resource team was: Doug Tipps of Jackson, Mississippi; Roger Copeland of Little Rock Arkansas; Frank Roughton of Cambridge, Ohio; Oscar Roan of Dallas, Texas; and the Imperials of Nashville, Tennessee.

Spring Spectacular

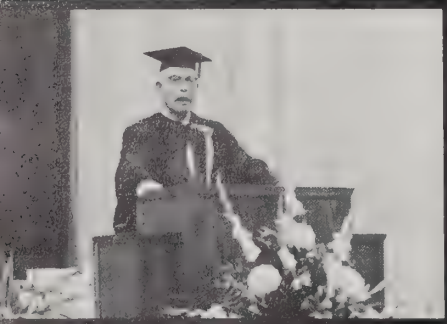

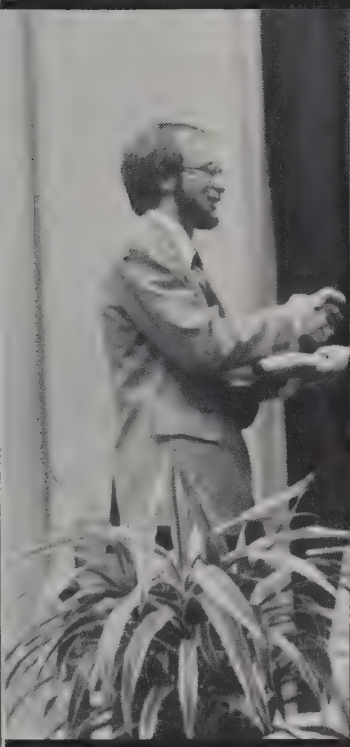

Spring Spectacular is a week of campus-wide activities focusing on student involvement. Prospective students attending get a glimpse of campus life, and it is a unique opportunity to involve alumni and friends with the entire administration, faculty, staff, and student body — thus a “Homecoming” in the spring.

Honors and Awards Day

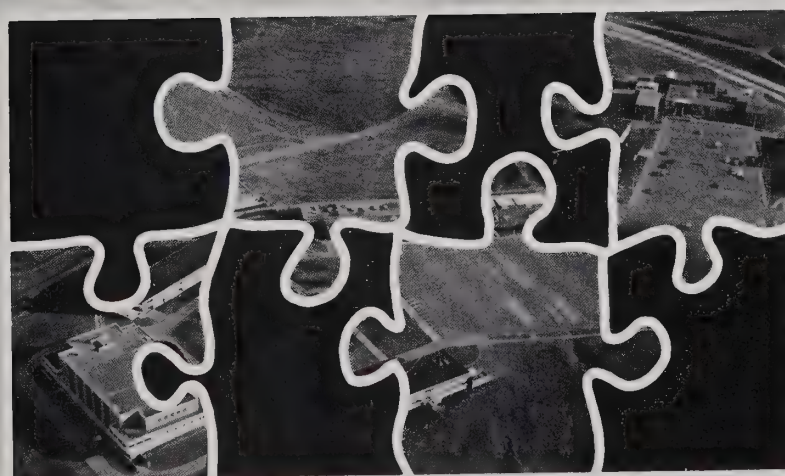

The purpose of Honors and Awards Day is to honor academic excellence in the students of Dallas Baptist College. In addition to exhibiting qualities of leadership, honesty, and citizenship, honored students for a class award must maintain a GPA of 3.8 or more. For a departmental award, two may be given in each department. A student must be a declared major, and have completed at least 12 hours in his field, and have at least a 3.5 average in his major.

This year, TNSA has focused on strengthening its organization by seeking to involve more Nursing students. Five committees were established which enabled more social activities, programs, and state level correspondence. Due to increased membership, for the first year in its history, TNSA was allowed two delegates to the state convention held March 8—12. These delegates were Janet Barnes and Robert Waybright.

Poster Sales, numerous guest speakers, blood drive, a thank you breakfast for faculty, a big sister little sister week and an End of the Year Fling for Seniors are some of the many activities sponsored by TNSA.

Our thanks from TNSA to all who cooperated with enthusiasm in making 77-78 a successful year.

ROTC

In addition to the many advantages offered by the ROTC program to college men and women, there are significant advantages to the Nation as a whole. This unique system of instructing and commissioning the bulk of our officers on college campuses has produced a vital national defense and civilian enterprise. The ROTC program is typically American. It is an expression of our historic concepts of the citizen soldier and civilian control over our Military forces. *Bottom, Left to Right — Dana Morris, Sam Hernandez, Neal Logan, Tim Milligan. Chieftan Staff

The Chieftans purpose is to spread the art of journalism across the DBC campus. It should seek to teach the many bright and talented journalism students this art and to develop their talents to the fullest. We pride ourselves on having one of the most objective and informative news services. We print as many as possible of the hundreds of intellectually—stimulating editorials we receive. Our photography and art layouts are of the highest calibre, making the Chieftan entertaining while also stimulating the reader to further interest in this journal. The above opinions are solely that of the Chieftan Staff and are not necessarily those expressed by the Administration, Student Body, or the Summit Staff.

Summit Staff

This year the staff of the 1978 Summit Yearbook sought to stimulate the faculty and student body in remembrance of our founding fathers and their sole heart's desire to see Dallas Baptist College reach her full potential as a liberal arts institution; and reaching that in an atmosphere of Christian brotherly love.

We hope the student body and faculty appreciate and honor this founding goal.

It keeps members informed of events, trends, and available material in the church music ministry and promotes the use of worthy music in the worship of God on campus and in the churches whenever members of the Conference may serve. Ministerial Alliance

Activities outside the classroom are very much a part of the total learning process for students and are a vital part of the total college experience. Because of this concept, weekly meetings are held by the Ministerial Alliance to aid in intellectual and spiritual growth for each person present. Another purpose of the Alliance is to assist all organizations on campus in an evangelistic outreach, both on our campus and out in our community. Membership is automatically extended to each ministerial student who receives $20.00 an hour off his tuition from the Texas Baptist General Convention. Everyone is welcome to attend any meeting he or she may desire.

The thirty-seven voice Dallas Baptist College A Cappella Choir is under the direction of Dr. Wesley S. Coffman, professor of music and chairman of the Arts Division at Dallas Baptist College. Singing a varied program, the choir enjoys popularity with all audiences. This past year the choir had over twenty-five performances in churches, colleges, high schools and service clubs. The Spring tour took the choir to points in Arkansas and Tennessee as well as East Texas. Several media sources such as drama, film, and tape are used to enhance the choir's concert presentations.

The purpose of the Student Government Association is to act as the representative voice of the student body. The Association consists of an executive and a legislative body. Five senators are chosen from each class, and they are directly responsible to the students in their class. The executive body is responsible to all the students. The Student Government Association speaks on behalf of the students, organizes activities for the students and the faculty, and serves to promote good relations between the students, faculty, and administration. The Student Government Association of Dallas Baptist College is governed by Student Constitution.

Student Foundation

The DBC Student Foundation brings together students and administrators and promotes student involvement for students and their college. This group focuses its energies on funding scholarships, student recruitment, and public relations — interaction with all constituent groups associated with DBC. Its purpose is to involve students in meaningful projects resulting in a greater college and a more dedicated alumni. This year the Student Foundation contacted prospective students through Collegeday/Night programs and area churches and represented DBC at the Baptist General Convention of Texas, as well as other luncheons and meetings where student representation was needed. Through the fund-raising efforts of the group, various juniors and seniors now attending DBC received financial aid in the form of Student Foundation scholarships to assist them in finishing their education. The organization topped off the year by sponsoring Spring Spectacular — a week of activities including a golf tournament, tennis tournament, faculty-staff football game, a girls' tricycle race, regatta, and a concert.

A student member chapter of M.E.N.C. is a campus group that is authorized by the head of the music school or department. It is sponsored by a faculty member who is an active M.E.N.C. member and who serves as chapter adviser. The purpose of membership is to provide opportunities for professional development for college students of music education through on campus activities of the chapter and participation in state, division, and national meetings of the organization. The members receive regular issues of the MUSIC EDUCATION JOURNAL, which is the official M.E.N.C. magazine.

Kappa Sigma

Kappa Sigma fraternity seeks to pursue in spirit the ideals of "Strength in union . . . danger in discord." This concept is based on the fact that it is natural and logical for a man to seek out a group of his peers, and associate himself to that group. A Kappa Sigma must be a gentleman . . . a man of honor and courage . . . a man of zeal yet humble . . . an intelligent man . . . a man of truth . . . one who tempers action with wisdom and, above all else, one who walks in the light of God.

Lambda Chi Alpha

The Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity sets as its supreme goal contributions in the largest measure possible to the preeminence of truth and justice and the well being of human kind. Toward this end, it is the aim of Lambda Chi Alpha to develop in its members the highest standards and acts of honor, chivalry, unselfishness, tolerance and loyalty to the principles of the Christian religion. It is a fundamental principle of this fraternity that no finer means is offered for the achievement of these aims than the brotherly association of men with similar tastes and inclinations.
